A.8. Disabled Access:
Contact the City Community Development Department/ Building Division, City Hall, upper level west wing, 408-615-2420.

When there is no construction proposed, disabled access for existing commercial buildings is (mostly) under the purview of the United States Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Businesses that provide goods or services to the public are called "public accommodations" in the ADA. Businesses that provide public accommodations are subject to the ADA.

The ADA requires businesses to remove architectural barriers in existing buildings and make sure that newly built or altered facilities are constructed to be accessible to individuals with disabilities. "Grandfather provisions" found in local building codes do not exempt businesses from their obligations under the ADA.

The Federal DOJ ADA website is: https://www.ada.gov/

"Safe Harbor": If a business facility was built or altered in the past 20 years in compliance with the 1991 Standards, or if barriers to specific elements were removed in compliance with those Standards, a new business does not have to make further modifications to those elements—even if the new standards have different requirements for them—to comply with the 2010 Standards. This provision is applied on an element-by-element basis and is referred to as a “safe harbor.”

The ADA requires that small businesses remove architectural barriers in existing facilities when it is "readily achievable" to do so. Readily achievable means "easily accomplishable without much difficulty or expense." This requirement is based on the size and resources of a business.

Priorities for barrier removal should be:
- Providing access to your business from public sidewalks, parking areas, and public transportation;
- Providing access to the goods and services your business offers;
- Providing access to public restrooms; and
- Removing barriers to other amenities offered to the public, such as drinking fountains.

Disabled Access: Change of Occupancy (Classification) per the 2019 California Existing Building Code (CEBC):

2019 CEBC 305.2 Change of Occupancy:
